七、閱讀測驗 12%，一題 2 分。

In Taiwan, some farms are small, and some are big... But guess what? There are farms in America that are bigger than all of Taipei City! On super big farms, farmers can't look at every vegetable... they can't check every plant to see how it's growing. But a robot can! And... Scientists now have "robot farmers"!

These robots can find every vegetable and check every plant. They can take really good pictures! The robots look a little like cars. They have wheels like cars but they are tall. I guess you could say they look like cars with legs. They drive over the vegetables and plants. Look down... take pictures... find information(資訊).. and then send what they find back to a computer.

The farmers can see if bugs are eating plants in one part of the farm or maybe in another part of the farm, the plants are thirsty and need more water. That's a big help for farmers.

Robots are helping farmers grow more food and better food!

55. () What is a robot farmer?

Ken: What would you like to eat today?

Jessie: I don't know. This is my first time here.

Ken: Really? It's more popular than any other restaurant near our school. Do you eat beef?

Jessie: No, my family and I don't eat beef, but don't worry.

I'd like the chicken with pumpkin pie.

Ken: That looks delicious. I'll have the beef burger and green tea with ice cream.

Jessie: Are you ready to order? I'll have the waitress take our order.

Ken: Well, I need more time. I'd like something sweet. Maybe a chocolate cake or an apple pie.

Jessie: How about the chocolate cake? I like apple pies more than any other dessert(甜點). I'll have an apple pie, and you order the chocolate cake. Then, we can eat them together!

Ken: That sounds like a great idea!

58. () What can we know from their talk?

(A) Both Ken and Jessie will have steak.

(B) Jim's Steak House is more popular than all the other restaurants near Ken and Jessie's school.
